The Managing Directors with the Management Team will regularly review the Environmental Management System (EMS) and the objectives set out to ensure the continuing effectiveness of the EMS and the Company's commitment to continual improvement in minimising the aspects and impacts associated with the products and services supplied. The company has decided that for these reviews to be truly effective, those aspects and impacts identified will be controlled through the EMS that has been designed to meet the requirements of ISO 14001:2015.

In order to ensure the above we ask that everyone should fully implement the Company's policy and inform a member of the Management Team of any matter or circumstance which does not comply with the Company's policy.

In addition, all employees and contractors are reminded of their own duties to reduce their impact on the environment and to co-corporate with the Company so as to enable it to conduct its responsibilities successfully. Constructive suggestions from employees & contractors are welcome and will always receive careful consideration.

The most successful way that all employees and contractors can improve their own environmental performance is by being alert to all impacts, eliminating complacency and accepting their own personnel responsibilities. The Company's Management Team should be notified as soon as possible in writing of any environmental incident that happens on the Company's premises or on site.

The Company will bring to the attention of their employees, clients and contractors the importance of complying with all legislation and regulations that relate to the environmental aspects and impacts of the products and services supplied by the Company.

The Company shall ensure this environmental policy and environmental objectives are compatible with the context and strategic direction of the Company.

This policy is communicated to all staff. This policy is also available to the general public or other interested parties by request.
